

LITIGATION LAWYERS

McDougall Gauley LLP is one of Saskatchewan's largest and most diversified law firms. With offices in several Saskatchewan cities, the firm is poised to grow with this dynamic province representing clients at home and around the world. Associates here enjoy strong mentorship, leading compensation, and opportunities for growth within the firm. The firm is currently seeking 3 lawyers for their Regina office to practice in the areas of general litigation, criminal law and family law.

The litigation practice at McDougall Gauley LLP is varied and fast-paced. An opportunity exists for a junior litigation lawyer (1-4 year call) who enjoys advocacy, mediation and trial work to join the team.

Our criminal law practice is expanding quickly. An associate in this area would have the opportunity to work alongside well-known lawyers in the field and to take on interesting cases independently. 2+ years experience in criminal law would be an asset.

McDougall Gauley LLP has a strong family law practice and is looking for a self-motivated lawyer to establish their career here. Preference will be given to applicants who have 3-5 years call to the Bar. Familiarity with and proven experience dealing with family law and court procedures are essential components of this position.

Associates at McDougall Gauley LLP are required to demonstrate:

- A positive, professional attitude
- Client service experience
- Exceptional writing, editing and communication skills
- Research and analytical skills
- Problem solving skills

McDougall Gauley LLP has built a culture of respect and co-operation that requires all lawyers in the firm to develop and maintain effective and supportive professional relationships. Working with nationally recognized lawyers and loyal professional staff creates an environment for lawyers to build a successful practice and a life outside of the office. The firm offers exceptional compensation and benefits packages to associates.
