Mackenzie Tulloch provides solution focused advice on a broad range of business related matters, with a particular focus on financing, mergers and acquisitions, commercial transactions and real estate. He provides practical legal advice with cost effective solutions.

Overview

Mackenzie has a wide breadth of experience in business related matters, and is able to provide cost-effective and practical advice to clients. He prefers to provide solution focused advice and does so in a clear and client-centric approach.

Mackenzie previously worked as in-house counsel at a large financial institution. As a result, he understands the legal considerations within the broader context of business operations. He actively collaborates with clients to develop strategies that not only address immediate challenges but also with a view for long-term success.
